

FAKE ME HARD

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

For the exhibition FAKE ME HARD AVL Mundo is looking for enthusiastic volunteers.

The exhibition is about life in a post-truth society. A spectacular hands-on exhibition with installations by over 40 artists exploring the complex reality of the 21st century. The exhibition will feature work from Jon Rafman, Pinar Yoldas and Beeple.

We are looking for several volunteers for the period July 1 to August 15 from Thursday to Sunday. If you are only available for a certain time, that is also ok. Various hosts are needed who can help us with public guidance, ticket sales and information provision. A prior knowledge of the subject is very nice, but not necessary. We do like it if you want to delve into the exhibition information, people will often ask you what a work is about.

You are the face of our exhibition and our organization. You are not afraid of digital monsters and are not afraid to talk to people in real life.

What do we offer:

- Working in an insane exhibition with really sweet people.
- Shifts of 4 or 8 hours
- Volunteers allowance per hour
- Entrance tickets to the exhibition

We ask:

- Punctuality
- Sociability
- Open attitude
- Cooperation

We would like to hear from you by sending an email to: mail@avlmundo.org with the subject: Host FAKE ME HARD. If you would like to earn internship points, please mention that in your mail.

Mail us your name, age, the course you are taking and a short motivation of 3 lines and 2 pictures of your choice. Deadline is Tuesday June 8.

Thank you and see you soon,
Team AVL Mundo.
